Work experience

Head of "Internet Power Energy"
From February 2021 to 2023 Power Energy Puruándiro Michoacan
Power Energy is a family-run small business in my local area that includes various enterprises: gas stations, a plastic recycling plant, an LPG supplier, and an internet service for communities. My job primarily involved managing the latter, handling the financial and supply accounting, and regulating internet usage to prevent client overcapacity and ensure an equitable distribution of bandwidth to each customer.

About me

I enjoy computer games, which have kept me in touch with technology for as long as I can remember. At 15, I entered high school specializing in programming and discovered my true interest in this field. In university, my curiosity and boredom led me to explore web programming, and I ended up completely fascinated and in love with this domain.
Video games and my innate curiosity have helped me develop a strong ability to quickly learn new things in various fields.
